How much do you think these items cost? Put a price next to each item.

Where do you think these items come from?

What materials are these items made from? What might that tell you about the area these items are from?

What do these items say about the culture they come from?

Now open the bag. After opening the bag, what new observations can you make?

Who do you think left behind these items? How have you come to this conclusion?

I thought the bag belonged to _____. I was (circle one) right / wrong in my conclusions.
