

ASCANIUS: THE YOUTH CLASSICS INSTITUTE
CLASSICAL PROMISE SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION
funds available for high school and college students

I. Introduction

General Overview

The Classical Promise Scholarship is available to any high-school or college level student who wishes to create or maintain a program/workshop that introduces Latin and/or Classical Studies to elementary-school children. Scholarship recipients will be responsible for developing or compiling the content of the program/workshop and conducting the program/workshop.

Mentorship & Resources

Mentorship is a unique feature of this Scholarship. Mentors from Ascanius: The Youth Classics Institute will be available to guide recipients in the creation, selection and teaching of the lessons. In addition, to further help them plan and organize their program, recipients will receive free access to the hundreds of lessons and activities developed by the Institute.

Use of Funds & Other Requirements

Funds from the Scholarship may be used to purchase resources or materials. At the conclusion of their program, recipients will be required to write a summary for Iter Ascanii, a publication of Ascanius: The Youth Classics Institute.
